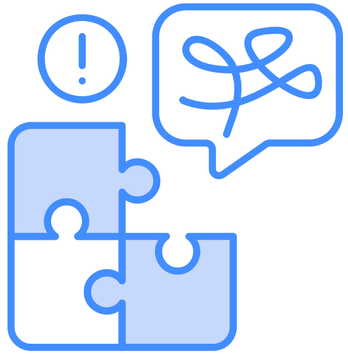
THE PROBLEM



Recruitment today is slow, inefficient, and fragmented.
Companies receive hundreds or thousands of resumes for one job & lately after some rounds comes to know that the candidate is not right fit.

1)HR teams must manually:
- Screen resumes
- Conduct interviews
- Schedule assessments
- Coordinate hiring stages

2) No feedback
3) Basic keyword based shortlisting

Result:
❌ Long hiring cycles
❌ Missed talent
❌ High recruiter workload
❌ Poor candidate experience

DEEPER PROBLEM (PAIN POINTS)

Slide 3 — Deeper Problem (Pain Points)
Current hiring systems create three major problems:

Resume Overload
Recruiters spend hours reviewing resumes.

Late-Stage Rejections
Candidates go through multiple rounds before being rejected.

Lack of Transparency
Most candidates receive:

- generic rejection emails
- delayed responses
- no feedback

This wastes time for both recruiters and candidates.
